

PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

DATE: MAY 2010

The MPLC expands its panel of subscribing Lloyd's Syndicates and increases its international medical professional liability limits to £20M.

The Medical Professional Liability Company Ltd ("The MPLC") is delighted to announce the addition of two new Lloyd's Syndicates, Amlin Syndicate 2001 and Ark Syndicate Management Limited Syndicate 4020, to its medical professional liability underwriting facility. Effective from 1st June 2010, these two new Syndicates will join the existing subscribing Syndicates, Brit Insurance Syndicate 2987 and Pembroke Managing Agency Limited Syndicate 4000.

The MPLC is also delighted to announce that maximum limits available will increase to £20M (or currency equivalent) any one claim and £40M (or currency equivalent) in the annual aggregate.

John Young, Managing Director of The MPLC said: "Amlin and Ark are two of the most respected businesses at Lloyd's underwriting this specialist class and their addition to our facility is testament to our track record. The increase in limits we are now able to provide is a direct response to the needs of healthcare clients who wish to be able to arrange cover with a company which is able to provide a total solution backed by a panel of well respected Lloyd's Syndicates"

The Lloyd's capacity we offer is particularly important to our clients since it provides the security they need and in this case, the ability to write business worldwide (ex USA). The capacity, security and geographical scope, together with the legal support provided 24/7 by Kennedy's, puts us in a great position to keep our offering at the forefront of the market."
